Mid-Autumn Festival Lantern Party

Activity Goal

1. To understanding the traditions, costumes, and festive foods of the Mid-Autumn Festival
2. To learn about Chinese festival stories
3. To experience the festive atmosphere

Activity Introduction

Through the celebration activities of the Mid-Autumn Festival at school, children can develop a basic awareness of the customs and traditions linked to this festival. For example, on the day of the Mid-Autumn Festival, families gather for a meal and engage in activities such as "moon observation" and "lantern carrying." To facilitate their understanding, educators will narrate the tale of "Chang'e Ascending to the Moon," helping children grasp the essence of the Mid-Autumn Festival through colourful illustrations and straightforward narratives. Additionally, teachers will present festive treats like mooncakes, seasonal fruits, and piglet-shaped pastries, allowing children to learn through hands-on experiences. During this occasion, the school will organize a Mid-Autumn Lantern party, where both teachers and students wear traditional Chinese attire. Accompanied by music, the children will carry lanterns and walk around, immersed in the festive spirit of the event.
